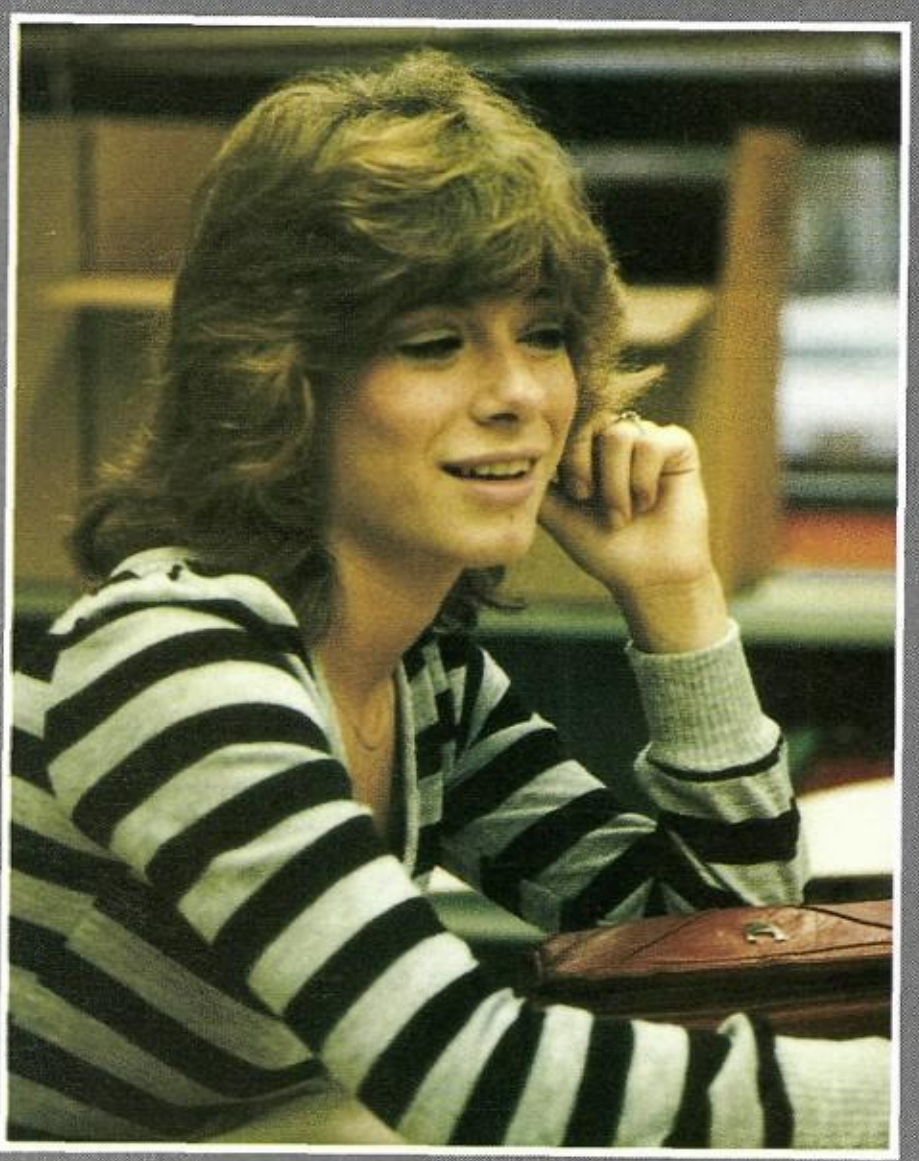
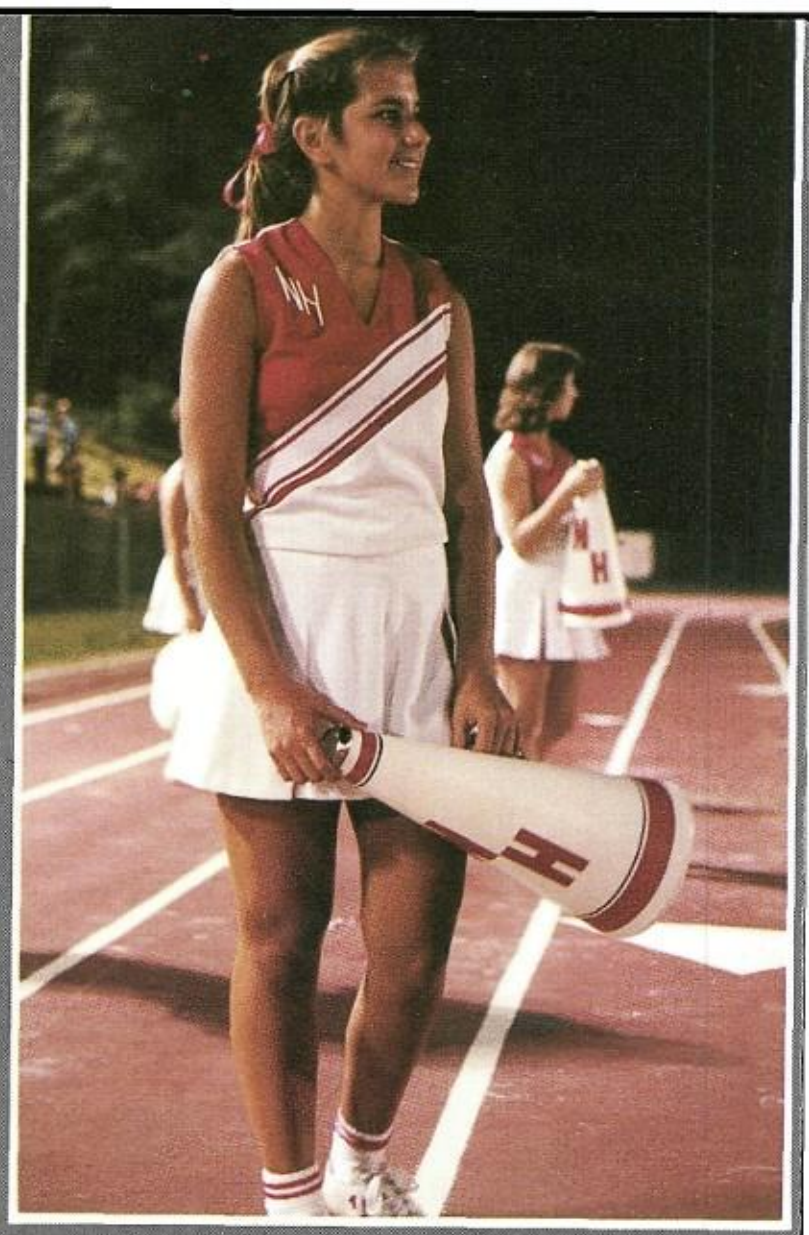
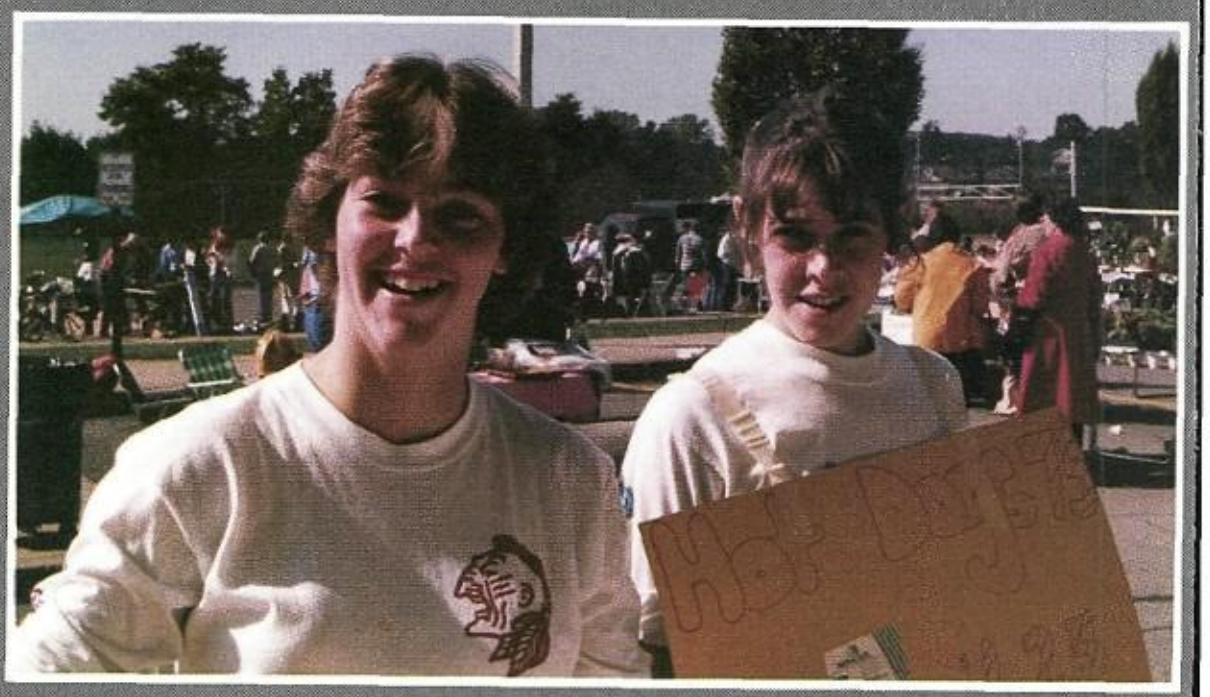
A New Adventure Is Beginning







To roll the dice, to spin the roulette wheel, to tempt the joker is to take a risk and accept a challenge. We can relate this to our lives, except the casino in which we gamble is the building of our lives. In order to live we must take the risk and grab the golden ring of adventure. As Betrand

Russell stated, "Life without adventure is unsatisfying, but life in which adventure is allowed to take whatever form it will is sure to be short."

When we first began school, we began an adventure. We made new friends, gained greater knowledge and grew older all in the same period of time. We were young and eager to accept the challenges that were ahead. Then a new adventure began when we went from elementary school to junior high and then to high school. Many more demands and responsibilities were placed on us. We matured, and now we look to the promise of tomorrow.

Life Is an Adventure

In past years, we gambled, took the risks and survived. Our life has been one adventure in which there are many memories. In the pages of this book our memories have been stored and we will always be able to look back and live through the adventures again.

Teachers Go for the Gusto

To reach out and explore, to search for unknown knowledge and understanding, were our goals as students from 8AM on Monday until Friday afternoon, week after week. But as soon as any break from school interrupted that regular routine, we often replaced the search for the unknown knowledge and understanding with

When several teachers were asked to give their definitions of adventure, they responded in the following manner: adventurism can be described in a variety of ways; adventurism may range from doing anything out of the ordinary to anything that risks one's physical well-being; adventure could involve exploring new territory and pursuing the challenge of the unseen and the unknown; adventures can take place in one's mind or they can be real events. Thus, a summary definition of adventurism can be: a daring action by which a person hopes that he has a good chance to receive something enjoyable from it. Such a person does not see the possible dangers accompanying

Beyond travel and the outdoors, many teachers experienced a variety of other adventures, either real or imagined. Mr. Molnar came to America not knowing English. A Great Boost To Classroom Teachers

The classroom teachers were able to go about their work due in great part to the staff of counselors, special ed teachers, and aides. These people were generally the least known of the hilltop professional staff, but they served important roles in the education and orientation of all North Hills students.

With the reorganization of the school district, changes also occurred among the administrative staff on the hilltop. Mr. Maddox Stokes remained as the coordinating principal. Dr. Karen Cercone was the principal in the office for students whose last names began with letters A - K. Mr. Robert Adams was in charge of the office for students whose last names began with letters L-Z. Different from the previous years they were the only administrators located in the Morrone Building. Mr. Earl Ceh, director of activities and athletics, also had his office in the Senior High. Mr. Al Cohen was the security director.

When one enters the room, the new brown carpeting meets the eye and carries the glance down the descending three-tiered levels of the floor. Chairs are coupled equally with music stands until finally the eye rests on the tall trophy case standing front and center of the room. The case boasts silent gold and silver statues marking past virtuoso performances. In front of the cabinet is a plain, black, metal podium. However, its physical simplicity is a stark irony to its function and purpose. It was from this solitary platform in the new bandroom of the Senior High that Warren S. Mercer directed the 1983-84 Symphony, Jazz, and Symphonic Bands to musical eminence.

The Symphony Band traveled to Chicago for an invitational performance. Their repertoire exhibited versatility as they played classical overtures as well as spirited marches. Futhermore, the 1983-84 season was the first to present two concerts before Christmas. The Symphony Band was improved by the leadership of Keith McKissock, president; Kathy Cousins, vice-president; Lisa DeLucia, vice president; Nancy Steinbach, treasurer.

With the brass of saxophones and trumpets and the rhythm of bass guitar, electric guitar, and drums the Jazz Band offered a unique style of improvisation and energy. Fading from the classical rigors of the Symphony Band, Jazz Ensemble featured more current works with solos characterized by musical spice and life. For the January concert, they were host to Upper St. Clair.

The North Allegheny Tiger Marching Band grew to over 300 members. Yet while they were multiplying in size, the North Hills Fighting Indian Marching Band was also growing - growing not in multiples, but toward finer precision marching and a better sound quality. Meade Smith, drum major, led the band on the field. The season's halftime shows highlighted themes from on Broadway, an ensemble of rain music, and a senior show of popular tunes. It was a year of finding new strength, discovering the meaning of unity, and striving to uphold the

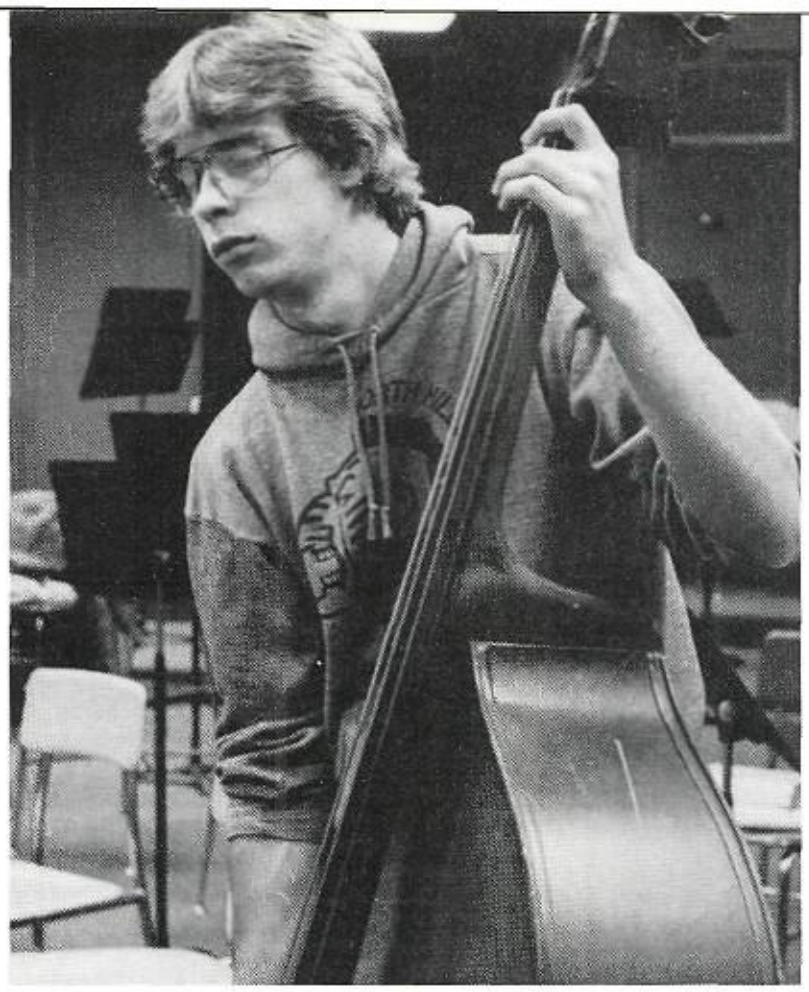
Strings Create Sweet Sounds



The North Hills Orchestra was at its best during the 1983-84 school season. However, the orchestra was not well known, but for those who attended their concerts or had heard them play experienced something which was priceless. Those people who did not know about the orchestra missed many excellent performances.

The members of the orchestra played primarily a string, woodwind, percussion or brass instrument.

The orchestra was conducted by Miss Areta Kalogeras with Scott Towne as president, Cathy Ibinson as vice-president, Burt Caldwell as secretary and treasurer Chris Glandsdorp. The orchestra performed many concerts and there were also many members who competed in a variety of different competitions and festivals. Much work and dedication was put forth by the members and the conductor.

Fantastic Flags . . .

"There is unity in diversity." The North Hills Flagline, under the direction of Aerta Kalogeras, certified the preceding statement in their consistent excellence and precision. For the purpose of the line was not to be an integral active element which enhanced the entertainment - entertainment with class. Such fineness was not achieved by merely performing a different routine to each song. Rather, it was done by weaving variety among the choreography and the medium.

The twenty-six girl line led by senior captains Dana Albanowski and Susan Gibson; had in its repertoire a spectrum ranging from traditional march routines to jazz chorus lines. But, all this variation had to be brought to a whole; therein lies the unity. It took the will of twenty-six separate minds to work toward a oneness. This dedication was sweated out throughout the summer with day long and evening practices plus an entire week of band camp. Routines were rehearsed until they were done right; there was no second best.

Togetherness was the motivation to continually reach for the top. This was a

The Twirling Wonders

Captains: Sue Ann Johnson and Cindy Seelhorst.

It's a beautiful fall evening, the second quarter has just ended - halftime begins . . . the music pulsates rapidly as hips sway seductively to the blaring sounds of the band. The tempo pauses, and begins again, softly, while twelve girls coyly peek from a swirling sea of red and white umbrellas. Who are these twirling wonders in red and white? A very dedicated group of performers the North Hills Majorettes.

Almost endless hours of exhausting practice had yielded a talented group possessing both grace and skill in many aspects of the majorettes' performances. Sponsored and supervised by Miss Areta Kalogeras, and led by co-captains Sue Ann Johnson and Cindy Seelhorst, the squad showed winning style at pep assemblies, band festivals, parades, and Indian football games. The highlight of the 1983 season was the performance at a Steeler football game with the North Hills Indian Marching Band.

Overall, the majorettes made an important contribution to the band's play, and added a special zeal and glamour. They can be proud, for their hard work and determination has paid off.

Teams to Victory

With their enthusiasm and vigor; the 1983 - 1984 North Hills cheerleaders gave our players and student body spirit of agression and winning. Throughout the year, they cheered the football, basketball, and soccer teams and as a result, proved that North Hills is #1! The cheerleaders this year believed in a philosophy of hard work and determination and even attended a summer camp to improve their skills. They practiced every Monday and Wednesday after school to maintain their excellence.

From their "I love the Indians" stickers to the North Hills painter caps, they filled the halls with school spirit and our hearts with team pride. Led by captains Athena Balouris and Kelly Day with sponsor Sue Pellegrini, the North Hills cheerleaders gave us a year of unforgetable spirit and showed everyone they had "All the right moves."

During the 1983-84 school year, the North Hills High School Theatre Department once again provided extensive opportunities for students. The yearly co-curricular activities included two major productions, a one-act play, a children's play, and performances by the Mime Troupe. Mrs. Linda Brown and Mr. Glen Richey, directors of all theatre-related activities, emphasized that the purpose of high school theatre was to expose students to the fine art of theatre. Their goal was to provide exposure that best suited the students involved in theatre during any given year.

The fall play, "A Christmas Carol," included both high school and elementary students in the cast. The proceeds from the production were donated to Children's Hospital. The spring play production was a suspense mystery entitled "Night Watch." The one-act play, "The Firebugs," represented North Hills in district competition.

The children's theatre group and mime troupe were extensions of semester courses. However, these talented students performed

The team traveled to many places for tournaments during the course of the year. Some of these trips were to Cathedral Prep School in Erie, PA., Louisville, Ohio., and Atlantic City, N.J. The team also traveled to several local schools for tournaments.

The team conducted various fund raisers throughout the year. Some of these fund raisers included: car washes, balloon sales, and the annual Mardi Gras at Northway Mall. The money raised helped students to pay travel expenses. The opportunity to compete in the tournament was given to all the members.

New Director, New Adventure

North Hills High School was, as usual, proudly represented by the North Hills Choir during the 1983 - 1984 school year. For the first time, the choir was under the direction of new choral director, Mr. Gregory Gyllsdorf. Directing a high school choir was a new adventure for Mr. Gyllsdorf. Under his direction, the choir maintained its usual attitude of striving for excellence, yet keeping a feeling of affection and friendship within this group. This attitude contributed to the success of all choir groups: Symphonic, Mixed Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and Bell.

The choir began work for the Christmas concert in September. The students put in much time and effort during class, at Monday night practices, and at concert rehearsals. Their hard work finally paid off, as shown at their December 9 and 10 concerts. Mr. Gyllsdorf gave the choir the new experience of having guest artists, a harpist and an organist, at their Christmas concert. He also kept the tradition of inviting alumni on to the stage to join the choir in singing the Hallelujah Chorus. A week later, on December 17, the choir had the privilege of singing at the University of Pittsburgh Student Union. A good time was had by all at both events.

Along with working for the concert, plans were also made for the trip to Disney World in Florida to be made in June. As with every trip, there must be fund raising to pay for it. As one of the fund raisers, the choir sold cheese and sausage at Christmas time. And of course the choir held its annual flea market in October.

The year of concerts, friendships and especially the trip will be looked upon with a feeling of happiness by all choir members. The fun and togetherness shared by the choir throughout the year will never be forgotten.

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is a co-curricular organization for marketing and DE students. Its purpose is to allow students to learn about marketing and distribution through applying this knowledge in the business world. The students were given "hands on" experience through participation in classroom instruction and other situations dealing with all areas of the market.

One place in which the students worked for practical experience was in the DE store. Here the students dealt with customers, operated the cash registers, made deposits, and learned how to inventory merchandise. DECA also included community-based work, which was under the Pennsylvania DECA State Plan of Work.

DECA students also did many things for the community. Students collected pennies to help refurbish the Statue of Liberty. They also collected food items for needy families at Thanksgiving time.

There are more than fifty students involved in the DECA program sponsored by Mrs. Arthurs. The only requirement was to be enrolled in Marketing and Distributive Education classes. Sophomores and seniors met one period daily, while juniors met two. The credits which were earned were: juniors- two credits; sophomores- one credit; and seniors- three credits.

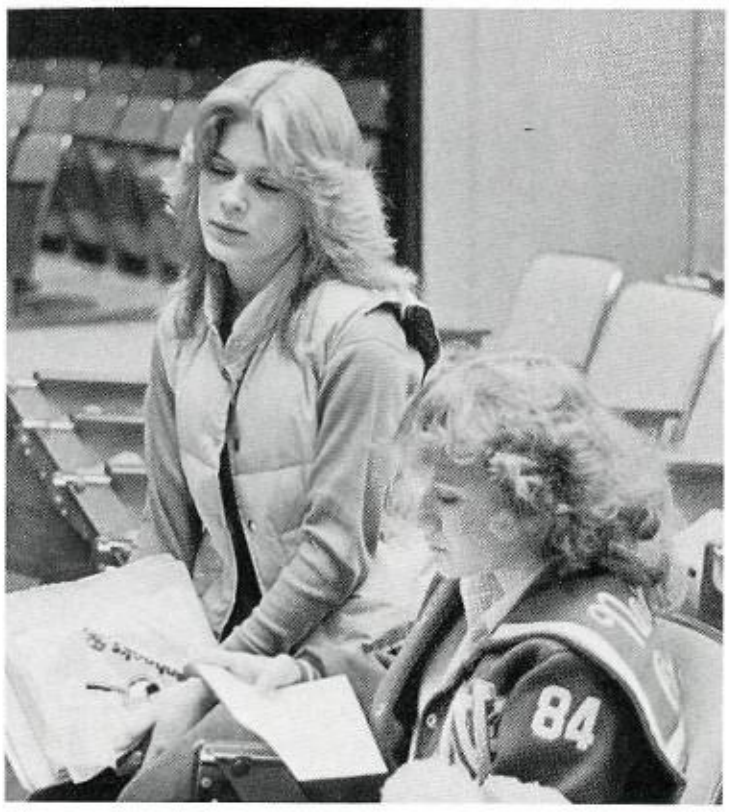
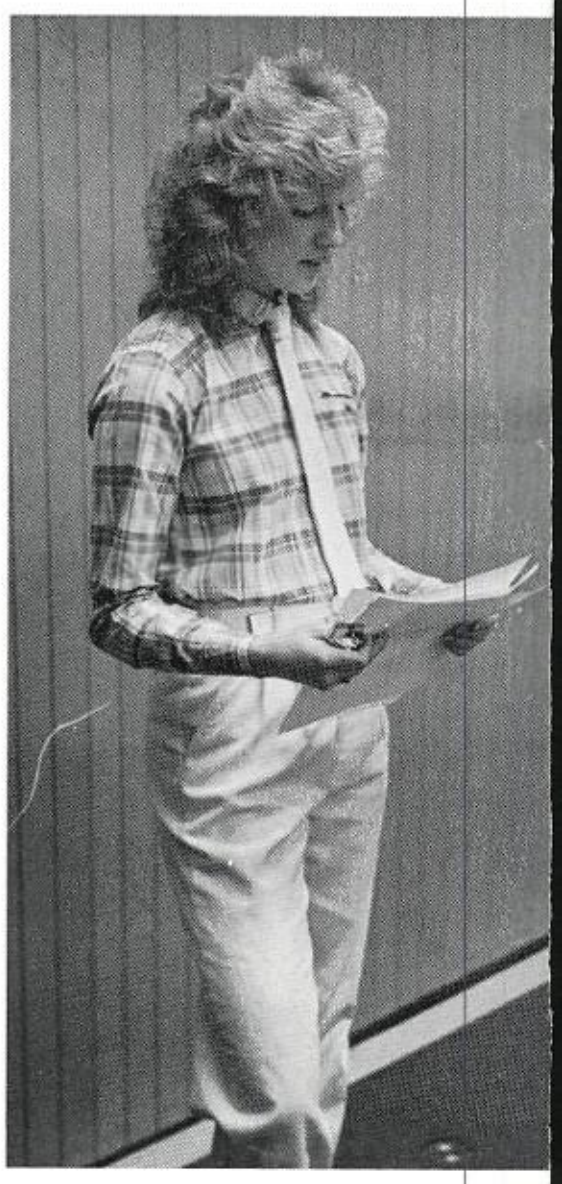
Under the direction of Mrs. Holler, the school nurse, the 1983-1984 Health Careers Club participated in many activities throughout the year. Every other Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., the club discussed the various fields of medicine and planned their exploratory field trips and projects.

The Club's many activities included tours of several area hospitals including Bellevue Suburban and Passavant Hospital. Included in their many tours of Bellevue Suburban was a look at the radiology department, operating and recovery rooms, and the Coronary Care Unit. Members had the chance to explore various personal interests in the health field through these tours.

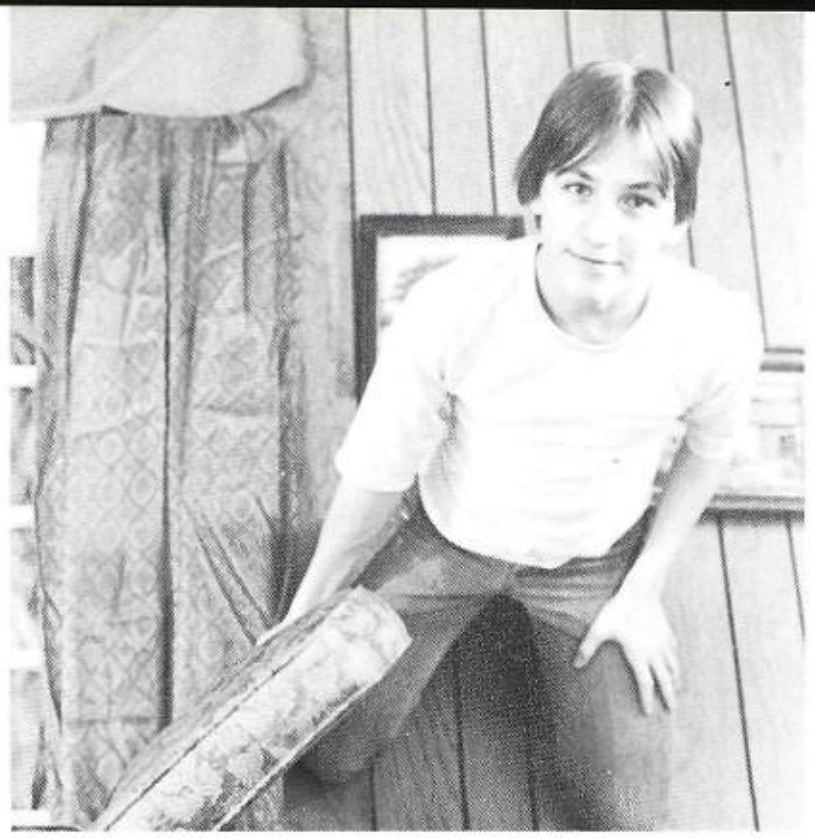
Some other trips on the club's agenda were to the Pittsburgh School of Nursing and Dixmont Hospital where they entertained patients with Christmas carols and refreshments during the holiday season.

The officers of the Health Careers Club, April Baumbach, President, and Noellene Welsh, Vice-President, gave their members an opportunity to explore their futures and make some career choices to suit their own special interests.





Lights, Camera, Action!



The film club consisted of thirteen students who took various film making classes during the course of the school year. These students met every Thursday after school to work on a variety of different projects. Mr. Langer, the sponsor, said the students enjoyed trying new techniques and creating unique special effects. The meetings on Thursday gave the members a workshop atmosphere in which they could both learn and have fun at the same time. Each member was given the opportunity to be creative and create his own project.

Quiet Dedication

A dedicated group of students aided Senior High librarians, Nancy Persinger, Joanne Ahlstrom and Carol Doyle, during the 1983-1984 school year. By performing indispensible services for the entire Senior High, this special group kept the constant exchange of information moving smoothly. Some of these services included the organization of magazines and microfilm materials, checking out books, and running errands for the librarians. Because of their "quiet" dedication, they helped to make research trips to the library an easy and pleasant experience.

Little Known But Talented

The Synchronized Swimming program at North Hills was among the least known on the hilltop. Yet, the members put in plenty of rehearsel time which eventually resulted in a patented water ballet performance. The girls, under the direction of Kathy Wilt, who, while not a teacher in the district, devoted hours to the girls, practiced once a week beginning in October and ending in May. Their schedule was not a regular one because the pool had to be shared with many groups anxious to make use of the water. Nonetheless, the May performance, toward which the girls had worked all year, was applauded by those who were fortunate to see it.

Service To Self and Community

The Key and Keyette clubs consisted of people who were willing to give of themselves in order to make the club a worthwhile organization. The purpose of the clubs was to help others and, in addition, to find personal enjoyment in doing so. Miss Pohl was the new sponsor for the clubs.

Miss Pohl and the officers held several meetings to plan a variety of charitable events. One of the events was the annual blood drive which took place in October. Many members also ushered senior citizens to band performances and plays. Some members participated in the "Joy and Sharing" program in December at the Hiland Presbyterian Church.

Club officers were Lisa Gallagher, President, Judy Papania, Vice-President, Debbie Zielinski, Secretary, and Amy Witherel, Treasurer, for the Keyettes and Pat Sheehy, President, Mark Lavelle, Vice-President, Tim Fetters, Secretary, and Dave Lapp, Treasurer for the Keys.

An Idea Exchange

Although AFS - the American Field Service club did not host any foreign exchange students for the 1983-1984 school year, the club remained very active. The club once again sponsored by Miss Hand, was designed to help students meet people and experience different cultures. Despite having no exchange students, club members were able to meet Ruth Conghian, an AFS student from Ireland who visited North Hills High School. They were also able to meet Anette Guenther, A North Hills exchange student, who was here through the Youth for Understanding program.

Although the meetings were few, the meetings that were held were used to discuss upcoming social events, fund raising activities and the possibilities of a trip. Some of the social events included a party held in honor of Ruth Conghian, a hayride in November, and the annual AFS weekend in which exchange students from surrounding school districts came to spend the weekend with AFS club members.

AFS, as a club, was at a stand still because of having no exchange students during the year. However, this misfortune did not hamper the togetherness and enjoyment the club members shared.

The highest honor awarded to a student for academic excellence was induction into the National Honor Society. Members of this organization had to be the best students - those who received outstanding grades and were also involved in a variety of extracurricular activities. In order to qualify for an invitation into the organization a quality point average of 3.75 for sophomores, 3.50 for juniors, and 3.25 for seniors was needed. The induction ceremony for new members was in January for seniors and later in the spring for juniors and sophomores. The faculty sponsor for the club was Principal Maddox Stokes. The 3 officers for the North Hills Chapter of the National Honor Society for the 1983-1984 school year were: Matt Lydic, president; Dave Wiley, vice-president; Missy Beall, secretary; and Dana Sander, treasurer.

There were many changes that took place within the High School during the 1983-1984 school season. One such change was the combination of 10th & 12th grades into one Student Council. This was a new adventure for Mr. Molitar, the new sponsor and advisor. Mr. Molitar, along with President Jan Kerrish, Vice-President Patty Dauer, and Secretary Janise Radovick, co-ordinated many activities and resolved the many problems and concerns of the Student Body.

During the year, the Student Council conducted its annual candy cane sale for Children's Hospital, it sponsored a couple of dances and it organized many other worthwhile activities. Some of these activities included Senior week, the Senior dinner dance, the proms and the Sophomore banquet. Much planning and hard work was needed to make these events a success.

The members of the Student Council dedicated themselves to make the 1983-1984 school year an enjoyable and unforgettable experience.

Friendship and Nature . . .

How were the needs of the adventuresome North Hills student in search of unusual experiences met? They were met by the activities offered by the Outdoors Club. Some of the activities included mountain climbing, canoeing, camping, rock-climbing and backpacking.

The club was led by co-presidents Misia Metzger and Tracy Guckert and membership chairman Kathy Bancroft. These leaders along with the club's sponsor, Mr. Madzelonka, planned many exciting trips that were either one day or weekend events. Some of these trips were: a September canoe trip; a weekend camping at Cooper's Rock, West Virginia; an Elk Photography camping trip and a weekend retreat to Heritage Reservation. If one were to ask any member of the club what they liked most about the Outdoors Club they would probably answer, "It was the adventure involved with everything we did that made it exciting."

Staffers Have . . .

New adventures into the field of journalism evolved around The Arrowhead for many years in the past. The 1983-1984 school year presented no exception. Mrs. Ann Webster took over the responsibility of sponsoring the newspaper. This was something she was strictly adventuring into. Her persistent and progressive hard work was the foundation of the Arrowhead and the basis for the effort and dedication the student staff attributed to the production of the newspaper. Along with her help, the staff was led in the right direction through the competency of the editor-in-chief, Lisa Freyvogel. Photography and journalism classes also made up part of the skeleton support of the staff. Even though the size of the staff and the format of the paper was limited, students still gave the valued time needed in producing the best possible final product.

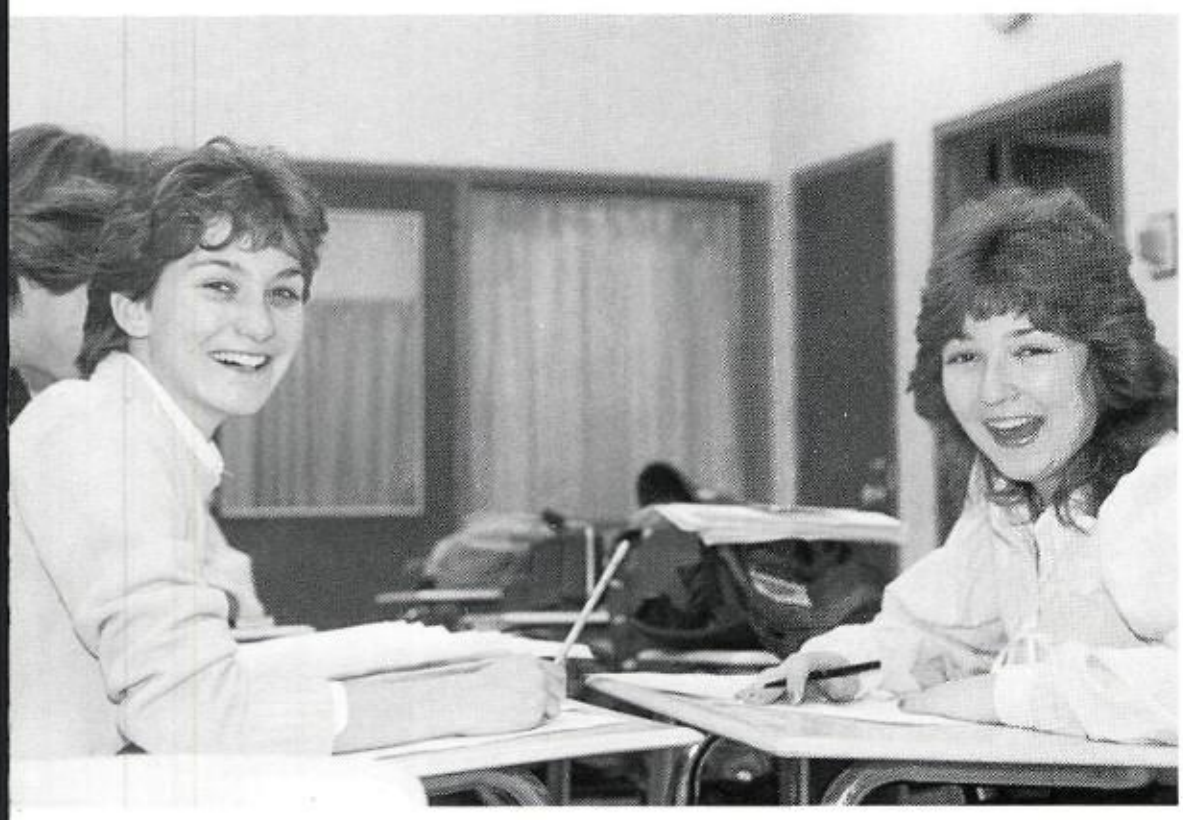
Behind the Scenes . . .



Memories, the shadows of yesterday, are what really survive long after graduation gowns are disregarded. As future times will live and die, some of the recollections will fade into a deeper darkness while others will sustain their distinctness. It was the responsibility of the Norhian staff (under the direction of Kathy Cousins, editor and Mr. Ken Werner, sponsor) to organize and capture these reminiscences. The events of 1984 were preserved on film, then the photographs were designed in page by page lay-outs. This book does not only allow one to indulge in remembrances but it also shows how far one has progressed.

Searching for the American dream has never been and never will be simple. One finds glimpses of it by living day to day, year to year. We must, individually, determine exactly what this "dream" signifies to each one of us. Such a determination is answered only through the trials and tribulations of adolescence. And, as much as we dislike to admit it, the hilltop is the background upon which these experiences are set. We were often compared to the seniors. Yet the comparison was unjust for we were not and should not have fit into the senior class of 1984 mold. We, uniquely, are the class of 1985 and we will be what we will be. And that, fellow classmen, will be answered in the not so distant tomorrows.

Our class of 1986 may have entered into the 1983-84 year with a bit of reluctance due to the fact that we were still "underclassmen". However, as the year got underway, this apprehension changed into strong feelings of pride. We had finaly become a definite part of North Hills Senior High School. This year introduced new and challenging experiences and direct forward steps on the ladder of our high school years.

Our sophomore class did its part in becoming more involved, one step above our freshman year. We had more self-confidence about attending school-related sports events. We became more involved with theater, speech, and other clubs we were reluctant to even think about the year before. We pushed in doing our best through sponsoring activities, promoting various fund raisers and always being one step ahead in plans throughout the year.

The year also sealed a bond of sentimental loyalty to our school through the receiving of our class rings. This symbol linked our pride in belonging to North Hills High School.

Soon the time will come when we will be able to direct "underclassmen" and have them learn for our examples and mistakes. But the feeling of adventure and devotion would continue throughout our years at North Hills.

The girl's cross country team continued their winning ways in 1983. With their record of seven wins and one loss, the girls added to the record from 1977 to create an incredible 70 wins and four losses. The highlight of the season was at Ambridge. This meet kept alive the tradition of never having lost more than one dual meet in a season. While the team's finish in the WPIAL championship was a disappointment, its eighth place coupled with Bethel Park's twelfth place, made North Hills the top cross country school in the WPIAL over the past six year period. The team was led by sophomore Sarah Gaichas, followed by Jennifer Lewis - team captain, Diana Lapp, Debbie Behrens, Debbie Zielinski, and Pam McGonigle. All the girls worked hard to make the 1983 season outstanding.

A Loose Group Boys Respond When Gun Sounds

Despite its youth, the boy's cross country team ran to its 11th consecutive winning season under coach John Wilkie. The team was led by junior Steve Brown and sophomore Glenn Ford. Steve Brown, in addition to going undefeated in dual competition, finished third in the WPIAL championship, and then went on to earn all-state honors with his third place finish in the state championship. Glenn Ford's 8th place finish in the WPIAL championship was the top finish by a sophomore runner. Also leading to the Indian's success were juniors Jon Siebel and Paul Teasley. Next year's team proves to be even better.

The Indians Are Highly Touted

The year began with great expectations. With over ten starters returning from last year's championship team, preseason rankings had the Indians #4 in the nation and #1 in the state.

As expected, the defense began the season in a stingy way, recording two shutouts and allowing only 12 points in the first three games. A surprise to many was the explosiveness of the offense, which out-scored the first three opponents, 117-12. Behind great blocking, the NH backs were able to run and pass almost at will. North Hills was then ranked #2 in the nation.

The fourth game, against Butler, had only one bright spot, the hard-nosed running of Jim Cassandro. The Indians lost the game and their #2 ranking.

This loss set up the season's most dramatic come-from-behind victory. Losing to Penn Hills 9-0, the team scored 22 unanswered points in the second half.

The defense began a streak of 14 shut-out quarters as the team beat Bethel Park 14-0. Brennan Gaertner returned an interception for a touchdown with seconds left in the first half.

The defense was inpenetrable against Shaler and Baldwin. On offense, senior Vince "Great" Scott stole the show scoring 26 points versus Shaler.

After a frustrating loss to Mt. Lebanon, the team re-qrouped to play arch-rival North Allegheny. For the second time in two years, NA's undefeated season came to an end in the mud. Jim Cassandro's 30-yard field goal with under a minute left won the game 3-0.

The defense was once again superb in the first playoff game against Central, but it was the special teams which earned the spotlight. Chris Haupt blocked a punt in the end zone to score the team's first TD in a 20-0 romp.

In the Indian's last game of the season, almost everyone had a chance to be hero and goat. The result of a mistake-ridden first half was an NA 14-0 lead. The second half was a different story. Rick Donovan, Rege Lux and the rest of the defense shut down NA's big gun, Ken Rock, immobilizing the NA offense. The special teams again played a major role as they blocked a punt to set up a Sean Morrissey touchdown run. In the fourth quarter tight end Dave Wiley broke wide open and caught a 76 yard touchdown pass, but it wasn't enough as the Indians lost 14-12.

Although another Quad A Championship was not attained, the 1983 team had many impressive stats. The defense had seven shut outs and shut down great backs such as Mitchell Johnson and Ken Rock. The offense accumulated almost 3,000 yards and outscored opponents 276-10.

The 1983 girls soccer season held a special challenge and hope for the North Hills players. With eight returning senior members, and the chance to defeat some arch-rivals deeply rooted in the girls minds, they began with five hour long summer practices and later, after school sessions. The team needed to be strengthened in several areas.

Rallied by Coach Lympany and co-captains Stephanie Janczak and Mandi Wright, the team improved its record from the previous year with four wins and ten losses. The girls also defeated North Allegheny twice by large margins. According to one player, the defense was the core of the team. She stated that "We had no accuracy in the offense - the offense was waiting for the perfect set-up and shot - unfortunately, that 'perfect shot' did not occur often enough".

The most memorable game of the season was the one in which the team thirsted for victory. Junior Michelle Komoroski had much to say about the merciless thrashing of North Allegheny. "We really played like a team; there was a special thrill involved in beating NA on their home field", she said. That one victory added sweetness to the improved season.

Boys Season: Not Enough Goals

It was a frustrating season for the 1983-84 boys' soccer team. Despite the 5-6-1 record, the team played outstanding soccer. Of the six losses, four games were lost by only one goal. Coached by Sal Marsico, the team triumphed over rival North Allegheny 1-0 and tied a tough Quaker Valley team after double overtime. Another season highlight was the game against defending WPIAL champion Moon in which the North Hills defense prevented the state scoring champ from scoring even a single goal. Senior captains Tom Maxson, Dave Weinerth, and Andy Hess led the team, with significant contributions from seniors Jim Hannon, Al D'amato, John Panagulius, Kevin Owens, and Chris Nudi, and from juniors Joe Danylo, and Bill Saunders.

Dave Weinerth was named to the All-WPIAL team for the second consecutive year. Next year's team boasts returning junior Dave Lapp, who was this year's leading scorer and team MVP.

Girls Squad Has A Happy Disposition

The North Hills Girls Tennis Team, with nineteen members, pulled out a successful record during the 1983 season. Facing some of the toughest schools in the area, the squad coached by Mr. Zaletski, won eight matches and lost seven. Two juniors, Casie Siegel and Jody Raida, highlighted the year with their outstanding play. Both girls participated in the section qualifiers for WPIAL's; however, they were defeated in the quarterfinals.

Optimism and determination would be the prevailing attitudes for next season. Coach Zaletski commented that the '83 team was young with only one senior, April Baumbach, seven juniors, eight sophomores and three freshmen. It is this mixture which held the promise for ensuing seasons.

The coach also termed the year a success not merely for the winning record but also because the squad was united and cooperative.

Girls Serve Up A Winner

The 1984 girl's volleyball team was one to be proud of. The team was under the guidance of Coach Mike Brown. The season revealed great strength and capability which the Indians possessed.

While the entire team played aggressively, certain seniors played especially outstanding roles. Linda Lerch's smashing spikes as well as Cathy Schultz's and Karen Skelton's tremendous skill also added to the Indian talent.

The team won an important match against arch rival Shaler. The girls also took third place in the Plum Invitational. They ended with a commendable season record of eight wins and six losses. Coach Brown was proud of his team which proved to be in outstanding form during the season.

As stated in a newsletter from Coach Baier, the boy's basketball team was judged by the character it had shown and not by the numbers on the scoreboard. The team endured much adversity, beginning with the late appointment of Mr. Tom Baier as head coach. The Indians also had to overcome important injuries to center Tom Huebner and to guard Brennan Gaertner. Gaertner had been the leading scorer until his broken finger sidelined him. Joining Brennan as high scorers were Steve Frank, with his quick moves to the hoop, Tom Huebner, as the inside power, and Mike McMullen as the team sharp-shooter. Everyone on the team contributed as a result of Coach Baier's enthusiasm. Each varsity member started at least one game during the season. The team will be remembered for never being intimidated and providing much excitement with their never say die attitude.

Girls Shooting For Future Success

Playing in a strong Quad-A section, the girls basketball team, coached by Mr. Floyd, had some tough losses. Despite injuries, illness, and a lack of height, hustle and desire often led to exciting games. Captains Kathy Shultz and Dana Sander dominated the scoring averaging 12.5 and 10.7 points, respectively. Dana Sander, the leading rebounder, averaged 8.3 rebounds a game. Linda Lerch, another senior, injured in the first half of section play, was the MVP of the Keystone Classic. Juniors Amy Quatchak, Diana Lapp, Marci Galewski, and sophomore Beth Schmitt often contributed to the games and were all looking forward to a successful season the following year.

Boys Display Skill On Ice

The North Hills Hockey Team had a new coach, and therefore, a new look. Greg Stein, who played college hockey at Pitt, succeeded Mr. Hubert as head coach. A conflict due to Mr. Hubert's teaching schedule prevented him from staying on.

The team practiced once a week at Lakevue Ice Arena where home games were also played. Normally, two games were scheduled per week. Practice sessions lasted for an hour an a half and were marked by quickness drills and skills development.

The team was captained by Bill Knoch, Steve Kasunich and Tim Few. They were always challenging the players to perform to capacity and their urging paid off. After a slow start, the hockey team pulled together to play over - .500 hockey after the Christmas holidays.

The boys received no sanction from the school district as other sports receive, but they nonetheless represented North Hills in a typically respectable manner.

The male swimmers of North Hills had a terrific season in '83 - '84. Considering the fact that only four seniors were counted on the squad, the statistics were a coach's delight for the present and a dream for the future.

For the first time ever, the boys defeated North Allegheny in a dual meet. As of February 9, the team's record was 4-0 in Section 7 and 13-3 overall. A section title appeared to be imminent.

Coach Pat Kennedy credited the boys' desire to work hard and understanding what was expected of them. Morning and after-school practices were the rule.

The four seniors on the squad were Rick Donovan, Greg Wukitch, Tom Fetters and Rob Fritz. The top underclass swimmers were Ed Sauer and Steve Wukitch. Donovan and the elder Wukitch were strong contenders for WPIAL honors and perhaps state laurels.

Due to the youth of the squad and the sacrifices the boys made, Coach Kennedy figured that North Hills boys swimming would continue to gain respect among the traditionally powerful schools.

The Girls Swim Team had a rough and somewhat upsetting season. The reason had to do with the lack of depth on a team with relatively few members. Injuries and illnesses also played a role.

Under the direction of Pat Kennedy, the swimming coach, and Jack Garrow, the diving coach, the girls worked too hard and deserved better. They practiced a couple of days a week before school and, of course, after school. Meets were normally held on Monday and Thursday evenings.

The practice sessions were strenuous but, the girls were always willing to make the necessary sacrifices in order to improve their skills.

The team captains were Kathy Muldrow, Diane Doban, and Nancy Conklin. The underclass team members were looking forward to next season when the results would be better.

Coached by Mr. Roy Phillis, the grapplers on the 1983-84 North Hills wrestling team posted excellent records during the season. The combined win-loss ratio of 106 to 89 clearly reflected a talented group of individuals. The team as a whole forfeited almost 30 points every match due to a small squad and, as a result, won only two dual meets.

The team wrestled well in several area tournaments, including Richland where they finished first out of eight teams. Mike Brainard(105) and Mike Tongel(167) took first places, George Cernansky (126), Matt Leherr(145), and Chris Ferry(155) earned second place trophies, and Matt Schaukowitsch(132) and Joe Suto(185) placed third. The seniors on the 1984 varsity team included Matt Schaukowitsch, Matt Leherr, Mike Tongel, Chris Ferry, and George Thomas. Underclassmen included Bob MaCarthy, James Goodman, George Cernansky, Mitch Latta, and Mark Schaukowitsch. Mike Tongel, returning section champion, was a prospective state champ. Tongel, reflecting on his team, said, "Our team may have lacked members, but it certainly didn't lack determination."

Indians Stay Warm All Season

In March, 1983, the baseball team started the season in Virginia after receiving an invitation to play with Highland Springs High School. This trip gave the team a head start and a chance to play in warm weather. This chance helped the Indians take third place in Section Seven with a 12-6 record. Outstanding 1984 members were: Dave Jansen - second base; Bob Woistman - first base and pitcher; Frank Keller - first base and pitcher; Greg Zwick - outfield; Dom Pollaro - outfield; and Chris Ferry - third base. However, the team did have a couple unfortunate losses, one to Shaler and the other to North Allegheny. Coach Sabina, however, was looking toward the future and felt that his team would be "better next year".

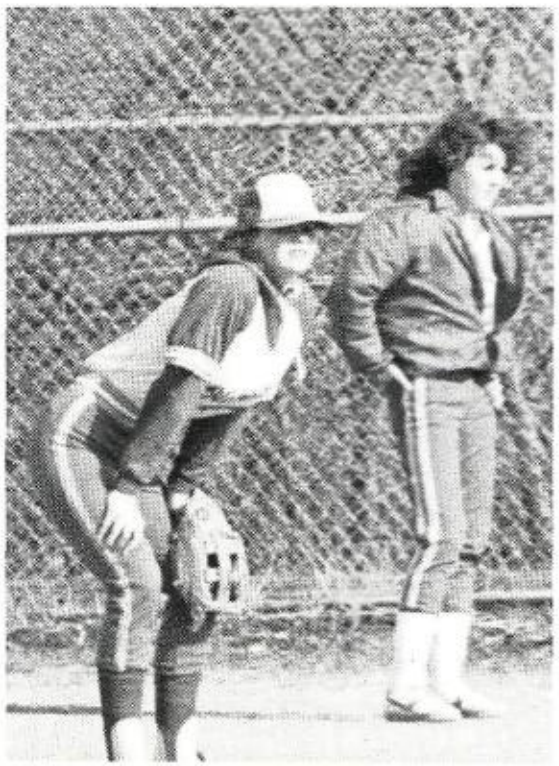
1983 Is . . . Almost Perfect



In 1983, the softball team had a record of 21 - 1! The lone loss came in the state semi-final game.

Needless to say, the team which had won the WPIAL title three of the previous four years claimed the '83 title too. North Hills could boast that it was the only team to win more than two Western Pennsylvania championships.

After a perfect regular season, the Indians advanced to the first round of Class AAA play against Bedford. The girls won handily by a score of 9 to 2. The end of a wonderful year came at the hands of a splendid State College squad by a close 2 to 0 score.

With several veterans returning to the '84 team, North Hills softball fans could expect another splendid season.

The North Hills boys tennis team began the season by shutting out five different schools. They ended the season by winning 17 matches and losing only three. Upper St. Clair beat the boys twice.

The boys made it to the playoffs, where they defeated Norwin and Peters Township, both by shut-outs.

During the season, junior Brad Hanes took the section singles top spot and he, along with classmate Jim Yoder, won the section and WPIAL doubles championships.

A new strength and power graced the boys' track and field team during the 1983 season. Finishing with a near perfect record of 7 wins and 1 loss, North Hills athletes showed a renewed spirit of vigor and force.

Overcoming many difficult opponents, including arch-rival Shaler, the team then traveled to the Fox Chapel Invitational where they clinched the first place title.

A new high school record was also established during the season by captain Vince Sebal who high-jumped 6 feet, 8 inches.

The other captains were Jim Martini and Marc Ferrari.

The Indians were heavily represented at WPIAL's while Sebal and Dave Weinerth participated at states.

Track People Thrive On Big Feats

The 1983 Girls Track and Field team sprinted to close its season with a 5 - 3 record. As a result, the female Indians were entitled to second place, with only North Allegheny ahead of them.

Led by 1983 graduates Linda Yoest, Katie Klein, Colleen Quinn, and Holly Hannon, the team rallied to secure second place in the Fox Chapel Invitational. Six women represented North Hills in the WPIAL finals. They were: Linda Dreves, Vicky Reed, Pam McGonigle, Diana Lapp, and Sue Koenke in the 400 meter relay. Stephanie Janczak was also present as an intermediate and high hurdler.

Good Luck Seniors of 1984!

The Norhian staff thanks the following people who helped to make the preparation of this book easier:

Mr. Keith Herchenroether
Mr. Ed Kissner
Mrs. Mary Hezlep
Mr. Al Vierthaler
Mr. Frank Bailey
Mr. Richard Sweitzer
Mr. Maddox Stokes
Mrs. Bertha McGinnis
Mr. Robert Adams
Mrs. Midge Altmire
Mrs. Rita Abbott
Dr. Karen Cercone
Mrs. Pat Broadbent
Mrs. Doris Orr
Mr. Bill Schuetz

The staff particularly thanks Mr. Mike Brown, photography teacher at North Hills, who freely offered his time, advice and darkroom equipment.

The 1984 Norhian was published by the Henington Publishing Company, Wolfe City, Texas. The typeography is News Gothic and News Gothic Italic.

The photography was done by Norhian staff members and photographers of the Strem-Varden Studio of Pittsburgh.

The cover design is the work of Erin McGonigle, '84, who also contributed the artwork throughout the book.

The layout of the yearbook is the result of planning directed by Editor-in-Chief Kathy Cousins, '84, and senior members of the editorial staff.
